

The Annual Gladstone Conference

Friday 30th July – Sunday 1st August

St Deiniol's Library, the National Memorial to Gladstone, is pleased to announce that the annual Gladstone conference will be held at the Library between Friday 30 July and Sunday 1 August.

The conference is the ideal opportunity to explore, in a welcoming and relaxed environment, the life and works of William Ewart Gladstone, four times prime minister and to use the Library that he created. The weekend may also include a visit to a place in the vicinity connected with Gladstone.

Amongst the themes of this year's conference will be Gladstone's relations with leading figures of the period and the activities of other members of his family.

Offers of papers on all aspects of Gladstone's life and times are welcome. If you would like to offer a paper please contact the conference organiser Dr Roland Quinault: rquinault@hotmail.co.uk

The cost of attending the conference is: £142 on a residential basis and £95 on a non-residential basis. For those presenting a paper at the conference the residential rate is £95. Please note reduced rates are available for those presenting a paper at the conference.

If you would like to attend the Gladstone Conference then please contact Reception (01244 532350).
